

Tejas Office Products to be Recognized with Outstanding MWBE Award in Purchasing by Houston Mayor's Office of Business Opportunity

HOUSTON—Monday, April 9, 2012—Tejas Office Products is proud to announce that it will be recognized with an Outstanding Minority/Women Business Enterprise (MWBE) award in Purchasing at the MWBE Awards and Appreciation Breakfast, to be held on Thursday, April 12, 2012. The award is a result of the City of Houston Mayor's Office of Business Opportunity.

Held in conjunction with the Government Procurement Connections Contracting Fair, the breakfast ceremony will be conducted in the Sam Houston Grand Ballroom at the George R. Brown Convention Center from 7:30 a.m.– 9 a.m.

"Our certification as an MWBE organization has helped Tejas develop business with Houston companies that we maybe wouldn't have otherwise connected with," President Stephen M. Fraga said. "Participation in Houston's program has presented a lot of opportunities to us as a minority-owned business. We're grateful for the program and all of those who participate in it."

"Tejas Office Products continues to provide the City of Houston with professional service and quality products. Tejas exceeds expectations with the various departments they interact with here at the City," said Roger Harris, External Affairs Manager for the Mayor's Office of Business Opportunity.

More information about the Government Procurement Connections Contracting Fair can be found online at www.HoustonGPC.org, where tickets to both the breakfast ceremony as well as the two-day conference can be purchased.
